

Activity Director of the Year Congratulations Sam!

The Florence-Carlton School is proud to announce that Sam Baerlocher has been selected as the recipient of the 2012 State of Montana Class B School Activity Director of the Year.

According to Mark Beckman the director of the Montana High School Association, this is the highest honor and award given to activity directors to recognize their hard work and service to the youth of our schools.

The activity director of the year award is given to the one individual in a Class B school who has displayed and demonstrated the highest degree of good citizenship by working cooperatively with numerous schools from across the State of Montana. Sam Baerlocher currently serves on several MHSA committees and represents the Florence-Carlton School well through his demonstrated hard work. Nominees for this award are voted upon by fellow Class B administrators and activity directors.

Because of his hard work and involvement with our students and fellow school districts from across Western Montana Sam is being recognized with this award. Sam received this award on Sunday, January 15, 2012 in Billings during the Annual MHSA conference.
